Course Goals

The primary goal is for you to be able to interpret, explain, and predict the physical and chemical properties of substances based on their atomic and molecular structures. We also want you to understand how chemistry is linked to other disciplines as well as your life. Another goal is to illustrate how chemistry is all around you, in the air you breathe and the food you eat, and how understanding chemistry will help you solve problems in this course and beyond.

The course will also focus on problem-solving. Your goal should be to develop strategies for solving chemical problems. Your approach should be to study and know the facts, and then apply that knowledge to new situations in chemistry.

Another goal is to realize that chemistry is an experimental science. The laboratory should illustrate and reinforce concepts learned in the lecture.

Student Learning Outcomes

are defined for each chapter in the textbook. Please refer to the Blackboard course under Course Content for listing of these Learning Outcomes.

for the Course are:

- Demonstrate a knowledge of basic chemical concepts, such as properties of solutions, thermodynamics kinetics, equilibria, electrochemistry, nuclear chemistry, and organic/biochemistry structures.

- Demonstrate strength in quantitative chemical problem solving including mathematical skills typically consist of approximately 15-20 questions, and will be ~18 pts each x 11 HW for a total 200 pts. Smartwork will be due typically Friday, 11:59 pm AST.

All exams will be delivered in class and will consist of multiple choice and short answer problems. The student is responsible for all information from the assigned text, lecture, and homework. Any of these sources will be used to construct exam questions. Three exams and a cumulative final exam will be given as per the course schedule.

Extended Absence Policy

Extended absences are defined as missed classes or course work by students beyond what is permissible by the instructor's written course policies. Students may need to miss class and/or course work for a variety of reasons, including, but not limited to:

Official UAF activities such participation in athletic events, conferences, etc.

Bereavement

Personal illness or injury

For more information, go to the student handbook or the Center for Students Rights and Responsibilities.

UAF Incomplete Grade Policy:

Your instructor follows the University of Alaska Fairbanks Incomplete Grade Policy:

"The letter "I" (Incomplete) is a temporary grade used to indicate that the student has satisfactorily completed (C- or better) the majority of work in a course but for personal reasons beyond the student's control, such as sickness, has not been able to complete the course during the regular semester. Negligence or indifference are not acceptable reasons for an "I" grade."

For more information, see the UAF regulations regarding grades.

Student Protections Statement

I will work with the Office of Disability Services to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities. The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and ensures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials. I will work with the Office of
